DARRIN J. WEBER ANNOUNCES DALLAS-BASED COMPANY
"WEBER GROUP ADVISORS"

DALLAS (January 10, 2018) – Dallas business man and long-time surety bonding and commercial insurance executive, Darrin J. Weber, announces the formation of Dallas-based company, Weber Group Advisors. Previously operating under the name RiskPro Partners, the re-branded company is a privately held commercial brokerage firm specializing in surety bonding, risk management, commercial insurance and employee benefits.

While the company name is new, Weber's strong team of professionals remains the same, boasting over 130 years of combined industry experience. "My 30 years of personal experience, combined with our seasoned team of advisors, bonding and insurance experts, will help clients excel in the commercial construction sector. We are committed to finding solutions that protect their assets and grow their business," said Weber. "The recent and continued economic expansion in the Southwest region and growth in the construction market is evidence that the timing is right to expand and thrive." Weber adds, "We believe an independent firm based in Texas, focusing on strong, forward-looking partner companies, provides us a great range of opportunities. Weber Group Advisors will continue to focus on unique and customized solutions for our clients." As former president at IMA of Texas, Inc. and a former managing partner at RiskPro Partners, Weber will run the company as President and CEO.

With an emphasis on outstanding integrity and quality, Weber Group Advisors partners with clients as a bonding and insurance advocate. "We are not providing turnkey services," said Weber of his advisory team. "Our focus is on understanding the specific needs of our clients and creating innovative solutions to difficult and complex surety bonding, risk management and insurance issues. These challenges can directly impact the balance sheets and operations of our clients. We strive to protect them to ensure their long-term success.

Weber Group Advisors is an independently-owned brokerage firm offering unique and customized surety bonding, risk management and insurance services to commercial construction clients throughout the country with an emphasis in the Texas/Southwest region.
